PRODUCT DETAILS

Our popular flat pack kiosks are now available in an insulated version! Insulated sandwich panels cover the internal walls and roof of the kiosk to protect against a build up of condensation.

Our insulated kiosks keep many of the same benefits as our standard flat pack kiosk range including having a serving hatch (hinged from the top) fitted to the 3m side. This hatch can be positioned on either of the long sides to meet your requirements.

Each part of the unit can be moved with 4 strong people. This saves on expensive specialist crane transport if you need to move the unit from time to time whether it's between events, or between seasons.

The insulation makes the kiosk ideal for year-round use even in low temperatures. Insulation density: PUR 40 (±2) kg/m³

The unit is ideal for use as a serving unit at events, festivals or any business for short-term needs. It's also well suited for longer-term uses, where either or both the interior and exterior can be fitted out and clad for use.

Note: Insulation comes in kit form, and needs to be added to the XL kiosk once built.
